

Oisín Lunny

lbp

Composer for film & TV, recording artist, producer, and DJ who has worked with U2, Depeche Mode, Sinead O'Connor and Gangstarr.

Oisín Lunny aka Lifeblood Productions has been making "Music For All Media" for 18 years. Projects include the score for the award winning documentary "Men Of Arlington" (2011), idents and audio branding commissions for RTE ONE, MTV and TnaG, and many adverts and sync placements. Oisín's background is releasing music as part of top 30 act Marxman, and as number one buzz chart act Firstborn.

Men Of Arlington

"Oisín's moving score for Men Of Arlington is both haunting and life-affirming. His music provides memorable themes, strong momentum, and subtly takes the audience on a transcendent journey. It was a huge inspiration working with Oisín - music flows from him. He works in a way that appears effortless, across styles, traditions and the possibilities of instrumentation. Oisín's evocative and imaginative compositions play a vital role in telling our story. "

- Enda Hughes, Director

Film Music:

After The Dance, Men Of Arlington (winner "Best Irish Documentary" critics circle award Jameson International Film Festival 2011), Human Traffic, The Waiting Room, Derailed, I Want Candy, The Mean Machine, Peaches, A Room For Romeo Brass, Blind Man's Alley, This is My Father,

Music for TV & Radio:

RTE ONE audio branding & idents, MTV European Music Awards score and Idents, TnaG Station Idents, Gossip Girl, Sky Broadband TV advert, Children in Need, Ground Force, Sophie Grigson's "Eat Your Greens", The Real Hustle, Bank of Mum & Dad, MTV Real World, Channel 5 show ident, ITV Fashion Week, Rick Stein's "Fresh Food", Northern Bank TV advert, Bank Of Ireland TV advert, BBC World Cup Cricket, BBC European Cup Football, Sky One, Sky Sports, BBC Radio One Pete Tong "Club Country" & Chris Moyles.

Online:

Introducing Ubuntu video, Nissan Juke advert, Swarovski "Hailstone" online advert, TWBA Ad Santa promo video

